

1997

1870

1954

2007

1937

“Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea” _____ written by _____.
It _____ published in _____.

“The Hobbit, or there and back again” _____ written by _____.
It _____ published in _____.

“The lord of the rings” _____ written as a sequel to the Hobbit. It _____ published in _____.

The Harry Potter series _____ written by _____. The first book _____ published in _____ and the last book _____ published in _____.

From passive to active:

- The Middle-earth was created by JR Tolkien.
- Twenty thousand Leagues under water was written by Jules Verne.
- The Wizarding world was created by JK Rowling.
- The ring was destroyed by Frodo and Sam.
- Voldemort was killed by Harry Potter.
- Harry’s parents were killed by Voldemort.

Correct the mistakes:

In “Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea” there is a sea dragon that some people say was a unicorn.

Bilbo is the main character of a book by Jules Verne.

Bilbo is Sam’s father.

Gandalf is the headmaster of Hogwarts.

Harry married Hermione.

Jules Verne was from England.

Capitan Nemo is one of the main characters of Harry Potter books.

Hogwarts is situated in New York.

